

Bishop, 25 Others In Crash

Plane Down to West of Hankow China, Wrecked And Burned

SHANGHAI, Jan. 29—(AP)—A Chinese commercial airliner carrying Methodist Bishop and Mrs. Schuyler Edward Garth, 48, Madison, Wis., among its 26 occupants exploded aloft 100 miles west of Hankow and the official Central News agency said today 25 persons were killed.

The agency said the sole survivor was a very seriously injured foreigner who was being rushed to a hospital. The survivor's identity was not reported. The agency said its report came from Chinese air authorities.

Airline officials who sighted the wreck from the air said the plane appeared to have exploded in midair and expressed fear that none may have survived.

None-the-less a convoy of jeeps left Hankow with medical equipment since the crash scene is remote and roads poor, aid may not reach the wreckage for many hours.

The plane, second lost in the interior of China in four days, was piloted by John Papajik of New York City and carried several foreign missionaries and their children.

Other Americans on Plane
Other foreigners listed by the company, the Chinese National Aviation Corp., included Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Vick of the American Baptists (North) of Cheshire, Conn., their two children; Mrs. F. Miller and her three children of Canada, and Mrs. B. Kitchen of the United Church of Canada.

Another possible air tragedy was averted today when a two-engine transport carrying Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, one-time U. S. 14th air force commander who now heads a China-based airline, iced up over the Fukien mountains on a flight to Canton but returned to a safe landing here.

The plane was carrying 12 other passengers, mainly personnel of Chennault's CNRA air transport line.

To China in October
MADISON, Wis., Jan. 29—(AP)—Bishop Schuyler Edward Garth of the Methodist Episcopal church of Wisconsin and his wife, who with 24 other persons were passengers in a Chinese commercial plane reported found wrecked and burned 100 miles west of Hankow today, left Madison last Oct. 29 for China where he was to make a study of the needs of the Methodist church. They have three children.

Last week Bishop Garth was elected president of the Wisconsin council of churches in his absence.

Bishop Garth, who was born at Saffordville, Kas., received degrees from Baker university at Baldwin, Kas., Garrett Biblical Institute and Ohio Wesleyan university and was ordained a Methodist minister in 1920.

In World War I he served two years with the army YMCA.

Conference on Housing Here February 6

Be Sponsored by Sedalia C. of C. F.H.A. At Court House

A housing conference jointly sponsored by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and the Federal Housing Administration has been called for Thursday, February 6, 1947, at the court house.

The rental housing conference is being held to acquaint all those directly interested in producing or financing homes and housing projects in recent changes of policies and procedures being made by the F. H. A. to encourage production of more rental housing.

David H. Powell

Builders, realtors, architects, subdivision developers, investors and officials of financial institutions and labor and veteran organizations from the nine counties in this area are expected to attend. Individuals interested in building homes for their own occupancy are especially invited.

Mr. David H. Powell, District F. H. A. Director, in answering the joint sponsored meeting said: "The way has been cleared to make 1947 the greatest home building year in Sedalia's history by the relaxation of building and materials controls and by steps taken by F. H. A. to facilitate the planning, construction and financing of individual homes and rental housing projects for rent."

Permit System Now
Powell pointed out that the old priority system with a price ceiling on all new housing had been supplanted by a new "Permit system" under which any citizen can get authorization to build a home, limited to 1,500 square feet of floor space and fixtures for one bathroom, for his own occupancy—provided in event of subsequent sale or rent, preference will be given to veterans of World War II.

Three broad avenues of approach will be used in the program for obtaining additional rental units for veterans: (1) Conversion of existing structures which will produce the quickest action at lowest cost and probably lowest rentals, which can be financed with loans insured by F. H. A.

(2) New construction of rental units, which can be financed with loans insured by F. H. A.

(3) New construction of rental units, which can be financed with loans insured by F. H. A.

Optimist Club Night Meeting

Russell Meyer Speaks on Value Of Membership

A night meeting of the Sedalia Optimist club was held at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Fifth Street Methodist church, at which Russell Meyer, secretary of Optimist International, was the guest speaker.

The meeting opened with the singing of the national anthem and was followed by invocation by the Rev. Herman Janssen, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church.

Group singing of several club songs was led by Charles Hamann, Miss Patricia Opp, talented young musician, gave a flute solo with Miss Ruth Ann Yunker as the accompanist.

Dr. Ben Klein, president of the club, presided at the meeting and gave a welcome to the wives of the Optimists, who were special guests of the evening, and other visitors. Visitors introduced were Harry Austin, guest of Bob Austin and Norman Ulbright, assistant to the secretary of Optimist International.

Tells of Club Ideals

George C. Hoffman, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Meyer, who for the past nineteen years has been secretary of the organization with headquarters in St. Louis, told of the real value in Optimist membership and activity. He referred to the ideals of the club.

"As far as I know," the speaker said, "the first Optimist club was formed in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1911, but the spirit of Optimism is such a universal idea that there were fourteen independent organizations that called themselves Optimists."

"If I thought," Mr. Meyer said, "that the Optimist club of Sedalia existed simply for the pleasure of its members I would not be here tonight. But I feel that if it can salvage just one young life, body, soul and mind, this year it is certainly justified for its existence."

The meeting was attended by eighty-six Optimists and guests. Lee Brandt, program chairman for February, gave a brief outline for the program for the coming month.

Not Far Apart on Big Issue

Measures Aimed To Curb Strife in Industry are Being Shaped

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—Theodore R. Iserman, a New York attorney, today urged Congress to overhaul the Wagner Act, terming it "the root of unsatisfactory labor relations in the United States."

Iserman told the Senate Labor committee he represents companies which "count their employees in tens and in tens of thousands."

The committee is conducting hearings on 15 bills, most of which propose major changes in labor relations laws with a view to achieving industrial peace.

Before Iserman took the stand, chairman Taft (R-Ohio) expressed the opinion to newsmen that the GOP-ruled Senate Labor committee and the administration may be "closer together" on how to win such peace than it first appeared.

The basis of this belief, Taft explained, is the testimony Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach gave before the committee.

Endorsed Ball Bill
In urging sweeping revision of the Wagner Act, Iserman endorsed a bill by Senator Ball (R-Minn.) which is designed to accomplish this.

He also supported legislation which would:

1. Outlaw unionization of foremen.
2. Prevent industry-wide bargaining by unions.
3. Make it easier to sue unions.
4. Ban jurisdictional or organizational strikes and secondary boycotts.
5. Outlaw closed shops.

Predict Heavy Snow to North

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—Livestock warnings were issued to Midwest stockmen today by the weather bureau here, as it reported a heavy snow storm, accompanied by sub-freezing temperatures, was roaring down on this area from the Rocky mountains.

J. R. Lloyd, chief government weather forecaster, predicted the snow, fanned by strong northwesterly winds, would drift badly tonight.

The storm at noon today had developed two centers, one over the Texas Panhandle and the other in Eastern Oklahoma.

Lloyd forecast a lot of snow for the Midwest tonight and tomorrow morning, with an exceptionally heavy fall in east and north central Nebraska; the extreme northeastern part of Kansas; the extreme northern part of Missouri and in most of Iowa.

A moderate snow is expected in the remainder of Northern Missouri.

Mass Meeting To Discuss Manager Plan

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—A citizens committee of 125, headed by James Parker, has called a mass meeting to be held Monday night to discuss plans for asking the city council to call a special election as soon as possible in a move to adopt a council-manager form of city government.

"As far as I know," the speaker said, "the first Optimist club was formed in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1911, but the spirit of Optimism is such a universal idea that there were fourteen independent organizations that called themselves Optimists."

"If I thought," Mr. Meyer said, "that the Optimist club of Sedalia existed simply for the pleasure of its members I would not be here tonight. But I feel that if it can salvage just one young life, body, soul and mind, this year it is certainly justified for its existence."

Pass Bill to Retain Taxes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—The House passed today a measure to keep taxes on liquor, jewelry, furs, cosmetics and other specially-taxed items at their wartime levels.

The action came as the first major decision on legislation since the Republicans gained control of congress.

The bill goes now to the senate. It climaxed heated partisan strife during which the Democrats accused the Republicans of backsliding on pre-election, tax reducing promises.

GOP spokesmen countered with an assertion that President Truman, himself, had asked for continuance of the excise levies.

Republican leaders decided to keep these taxes unchanged and aim for a 20 percent cut in the individual income taxes.

J. A. Duffey in Talk to Club

Judge Smith in Report Suggesting A New Jail Here

The Sedalia Lions club met at noon today at the Bothwell hotel at which time J. A. Duffey, chief of the liaison branch of the veterans division of the War Assets Administration, was the principal speaker.

Mr. Duffey, in his talk, discussed veterans' certificates, on surplus properties being sold throughout the country.

Mr. Duffey explained the various articles which are being sold exclusive to the veterans of World War II and other items which are being "first come, first served" regardless of priorities.

He was introduced by W. A. Fidler, local representative of the Veterans Administration, program chairman this month for the Lions club.

Dr. K. L. Holdren reported to the members on a case which will enable a Sedalian to receive an operation to remove one eye and the fitting of glasses to correct the vision of the other.

The Lions club, assuming all expense of the operation, took the matter up several weeks ago and through Dr. Holdren made arrangements for the operation.

Judge J. E. Smith made a brief report to the club asking the members to give thought to a bond issue for a new county jail for Sedalia with facilities to handle mentally ill cases and also juvenile cases, without having to lock them behind the bars of the county jail.

Judge Smith explained that Pettis county at the present time has no such facilities to care for a mentally ill person awaiting to be sent to a state institution, nor any place to care for juveniles pending investigation.

"Recently," he said, "when such a bond issue was mentioned another party remarked, 'The county jail is good enough for our criminals.' This," Judge Smith remarked, "is true, it's good enough, but not strong enough."

Guests today were Joe Dillard, Warrensburg, guest of Noel Tweet and Frederick C. Bills of St. Louis guest of Dr. Kenneth Holdren.

Reverend Father William P. Stack presided.

Judge to be Speaker on McKinley Day

Harry M. Gambrel To Give Address At Banquet Friday

Harry M. Gambrel, Presiding Judge of the County Court of Jackson County, Missouri, will address the twenty-second William McKinley program, sponsored by Pettis county Republicans in a banquet to be held at the Hotel Bothwell, Thursday evening, January 30, at 8:30 o'clock.

Judge Gambrel has the distinction of being the first Republican in years to serve as a member of this court.

Judge Harry M. Gambrel

From his hard schooling in early childhood, Gambrel learned the lesson of the labor behind earning a dollar. His hustle and friendly spirit have brought his insurance business from nothing to a point where he is within striking distance of the records of long established agencies. His present business success is a far cry from the year 1906, when he was ten years of age. His father had moved the family to El Paso, Texas, where he hoped to recover from a severe lung condition that had robbed him of his earning power. Young Harry Gambrel set out to give the family budget a boost.

Seek Negro Who Seized Girl

COLUMBIA, Mo., Jan. 29—(AP)—City and state officers continued in vain today a search for a Negro who seized and choked an attractive suburban-haired secretary in the driveway of her home here early today and then fled when her screams awakened her father.

Miss Gertrude Whiteley was accosted by the Negro as she started to get out of her car shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. When the man seized her she screamed and pounded on the horn of her car, despite the warning of her assailant that he would kill her. The Negro pulled Miss Whiteley from the car and carried her behind the Whiteley home, but he dropped her and ran when he heard her father, Fred Whiteley, coming to her rescue.

Bill to Hike Pay of Teachers

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—A bill to raise teachers' salaries by $10,000,000 in the next two years was introduced in the Missouri House of Representatives today by Rep. L. D. Bone (R) of McDonald county.

His one-paragraph bill would give the state board of education the special appropriation to increase salaries for the schools years ending June 30, 1948, and June 30, 1949.

In a companion measure, he proposed that the money be distributed share and share alike to all teachers in the state provided their school districts were levying maximum taxes.

In another new bill, Rep. R. H. Ridenhour (R) of Osage county and others proposed establishment of a Missouri Veterans Aid Fund modeled after the Nebraska plan for helping needy veterans.

"He'd clamp a headlock on me," she told the court, "and then slip into a hip lock and then try the flying mare and he'd toss me right across the room. I always lost."

Win 58 - 43
Over Marshall
Three Games Are Won By Bengals
Tuesday Night

Smith Cotton beaten only twice this season in basketball, came forth again Tuesday night with another victory, winning over the Marshall high school 58 to 43 in the "A" team game and by a still larger margin in both the "Freshman" and "B" team games.

Though they trailed at the end of the first quarter and at the half they came out of their lethargy and carried the third and fourth quarters easily.

Bud Thomas and Jim Egbert tallied 37 of the fifty-eight points between themselves. Thomas with twenty and Egbert with seventeen.
Miller also ran up the points, accounting for ten.

Both teams played both a fast but clean game. The Bengals, far more experienced seemed to seldom miss a basket, while Marshall frequently misjudging the distance lost points.

During the first quarter Sedalia scored only eight points, with Marshall doubling that. The second quarter found Sedalia still behind but slowly gaining, earning thirteen and Marshall gaining eight. In the third quarter the Tigers came to life and took a seven point lead over their opponents, doing so by chalking up sixteen points. Marshall made six points in the third quarter. The last quarter was fast, but Sedalia had already won the game. Marshall did make a hard fought counter-attack, and gained several points, but Sedalia stayed far enough ahead to keep out of danger. Smith Cotton scored twenty-one points in the last stanza and Marshall thirteen.

It was an offensive game all the way and both teams, who were playing man to man defense, had a hard time keeping their opponents out of scoring position.

In the "B" game which was

Here We Go Again—

played before the "A" game, Sedalia really rolled up the points, not slowing down at any time. Smith Cotton won that game 30 to 8.
Marshall making only three baskets and two free throws throughout the entire massacre.

Every substitute got into the game and did his part to add to this one sided affair. High point man on the Marshall "B" team was McDaniels, scoring three points.

The "Freshman" game was almost as bad, Marshall getting another taste of Smith Cotton's cage medicine to the tune of 29 to 7.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(P)—
When the major league baseball bosses gather here before the writers' dinner Sunday, they'll hear a lot of serious talk and some very emphatic proposals
about dealing with the problems of gambling and bribery. . . .

Baseball has had enough experience with such things, dating back to the original pro league, the National Association, which broke up because wide open betting in
the ball parks drove respectable fans away. . . . This time the leaders want to make sure that they don't get into the same fix that boxing and pro football have found themselves recently. . . .

Another proposal they'll consider is one already aired by Larry MacPhail — that floors be set for the cuts of the winning and losing teams in the World Series
and that a rule be passed so that a liberal club owner couldn't hand out more dough to members of a losing team than the winners received. . . . As one big leaguer explained, they intend to "tighten up" on a rule that already says
a club can't give a bonus to a World Series player. Which seems to put any change in the
"bonus head" dept.

Sacred Heart
Wins Over
Cole Camp
Girls Lost To Cole Camp In Volleyball Game

The Sacred Heart basketball team won Tuesday night over the Cole Camp aggregation by a score of 37 to 33, in a hard fought game on the Sacred Heart court.

The game was fast and hard fought, but Sacred Heart got the right breaks at the right time, and came out in the last few minutes of the game, after being held behind by several points, to take the lead and win.

The first quarter gave Sacred Heart eight points and Cole Camp twelve. Sacred Heart had ten more points scored in the second quarter and Cole Camp gained nine. In the third quarter Sedalia had six more tallied and their opponents earned six also. Final quarter was Sedalia fourteen and Cole Camp ten.

Sacred Heart and Cole Camp both fought for the points they scored, and both teams showed evenly matched talents. With only about three minutes left to play three baskets and a free throw were made, to put Sedalia in a one point lead, thus winning the game.

The Sacred Heart girls lost to the Cole Camp girls volleyball team by a score of 18 to 44. Sedalia got off to a bad start and just couldn't keep up with the fast girls team from Cole Camp.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(P)—
When the major league baseball
bosses gather here before the writers' dinner Sunday, they'll hear a lot of serious talk and
some very emphatic proposals
about dealing with the problems
of gambling and bribery. . . .

Baseball has had enough experience with such things, dating back to the original pro league, the National Association, which broke
up because wide open betting in
the ball parks drove respectable
fans away. . . . This time the leaders want to make sure that they don't get into the same fix
that boxing and pro football have found themselves recently. . . .

Another proposal they'll consider
is one already aired by Larry MacPhail — that floors be set for the cuts of the winning and
losing teams in the World Series
and that a rule be passed so that
a liberal club owner couldn't hand out more dough to members
of a losing team than the winners
received. . . . As one big leaguer
explained, they intend to "tighten
up" on a rule that already says
a club can't give a bonus to a World Series player. Which seems to put any change in the
"bonus head" dept.

Shorts and Shells
A Lincoln, Neb., basketball fan, adding reports of a bit of punching between Oklahoma and Kas.
State players and a bit of shoving between Phog Allen and Sparky Stalcup to previous reports on Big Six court action, explains:
"We Big Six fans don't even bother to go to boxing matches any more when we can see basketball, boxing, hockey, and general mayhem all at once on the cage floor." . . . The Greenville,
S. C., Spinners are trying to pry Cooke Lavagetto loose from the Dodgers' bench to pilot them through the Sally league season.
. . . The Brooklyn farm bosses will meet here next week and one of them describes it as "a convention." . . . Telling how tough it is to get tickets for Saturday's Millrose track meet, Director Fred Schmetz claims that Ned Irish, Garden vice president, was turned down when he tried to buy four the other day.

Brown And Schwarz In Draw Match
Becker Beats Marsh
In Semi-Windup;
Ivan Kamaroff Wins

Wrestling fans who didn't attend
Tuesday night's matches, missed one of the best matches seen in the local ring in weeks, between Champion Arville Brown, Wallace, Kansas, and Ray Schwarz, Brooklyn, N. Y. It went to a 90-minute draw, but was packed with plenty of wrestling action.

Brown won the first fall in 36 minutes and 27 seconds, using a series of headlocks, while the second went to Schwarz using body slams, in 38 minutes and 43 seconds. Schwarz used body slams to the champion for the second fall, which was packed with wrestling holds, action, and about everything in the book.

A Real Finish
The third fall period had but six minutes left and resulted in neither wrestler being able to conquer the other for the winning fall.

The opening event on the card likewise was an action thriller with Ivan Kamaroff, Columbus, Ohio, beating "Scotty" Dalkins, of Roanoke, Va., Kamaroff beat Dalkins with a series of drop kicks in 11 minutes and 23 seconds.

The semi-windup also was a crowd pleaser with George Becker, west coast champion, beating
"Tiger" Joe Marsh, Chicago, Ill., two straight falls. Using a half crab for the first fall it took the little Californian 16 minutes and 20 seconds to win the fall.
The second fall was won when he pulled a new hold, never seen in the local ring before, a reverse suplex, and was in 8 minutes and 25 seconds.

Local fans were assured that the "Wee Willie" Davis, movie star wrestler from Hollywood, California, would be in Sedalia next Tuesday night. A mixup in bookings of the star resulted in his failure to come to Sedalia last night.

Year of the Box Tops

Advertisers Prepare to Resume
Pre-War Prize Contest Hoopla

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—The war- time drought in national prize contests is over. 1947 will be the Year of the Box Tops. Merchan- dise is increasing; buyers are get- ting choosier and American com- panies are ready to pour hundreds of thousands of dollars into prize contest hoopla to drum up busi- ness.

Reigning Queen of the Box Tops is Mrs. Henrietta Davis, eastern manager for the agency which handles 75 per cent of all national prize contests. This year, she pre- dicts, will surpass the biggest pre- war year, 1938, in numbers of contests held and prizes distrib- uted.

Hundreds of contests will be trumpeted in newspapers, maga- zines and radio. Millions of peo- ple will tear off the box tops, at- tach them to the coupons and flood Mrs. Davis' office with snap- py slogans and rhyming jingles boosting Waxy White soap or Crunchie breakfast food.

The cardboard caps are their tickets on a long chance to win. A good contest, says Mrs. Davis, may offer a hundred prizes but entries will run into the millions. This year, Mrs. Davis and her staff of judges will dole out at least a million dollars in cash or hard-to-buy items, such as au- tomobiles and washing machines to the winners. Most contestants ear- nestly try to boost the advertising sponsor's product, Mrs. Davis says. But some prefer the direct ap- proach to the golden bonanza. Their letters begin "Please send me $10,000 in bank checks right away. In my humble opinion, I won the contest." Ghost writers for contest entries, who had lean pickings during war years when lack of merchandise made contests unprofitable, are back in business with a flourish ready to sell the glibbie a corned slogan. Contest hobbyists are getting in trim for the big events—after all, a Mas- sachusetts copywriter once won $100,000 in one contest.

Several large contests are sched- uled already—$50,000 is consid- ered a healthy budget—but what they are and when they'll be held are closely guarded trade secrets. Competition among contest spon- sors is stiff.

Church Events

The Harmony Woman's Mis- sionary Union met at the East Sedalia Baptist church on Tues- day, January 28 with eight of the ten societies represented.

The morning devotional was given by Mrs. Bert Farley on the 1947 watchword "Go ye . . . and make disciples of all nations."

Following the business session Mrs. Thomas W. Croxton install- ed the 1947 officers using the theme of the meeting "The Chal- lenge of the New Year" and the uplifted cross of Jesus Christ as the basis of her charge to the following officers: President, Mrs. William Reed; Young People's Leader, Mrs. Ray Crosslin; first vice president Mrs. B. B. Bradley; secretary, Mrs. O. B. Poundstone; treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Martin; de- partment directors Mrs. W. P. Arnold, Mrs. Morgan Beach, Mrs. Bert Farley, Mrs. Roy Holman and Mrs. Wm. Hoffman.

The afternoon session opened with a Scripture meditation by Miss Pauline Chamberlain of the Hughesville W. M. S. A reading, "The Forgotten Day," was given by Mrs. L. E. Ray followed by a vocal trio composed of Mes- dames J. M. Stott, W. P. Arnold and Mrs. Harry Stone.

A short playlet, "The Call of the New Year" was presented un- der the direction of Mrs. Morgan Beach.

The inspirational message was brought by Rev. Willis Chaney on "The Challenge of the New Year." Rev. Chaney stated that the challenge of 1947 is to solve the problems which will confront us this year adding that the Cross is the challenge and when we have answered this challenge other problems will solve them- selves. He advocated that to reach this solution we need a faith that is securely founded; need decisions, divinely reached and need action, wisely directed. He closed by saying, "The king- dom of God grows by human ef- forts and our challenge is to complete the task we left unfin- ished in 1946."

Mrs. William Reed presided at the meeting.

Engel Sounds Caution to GOP Colleagues

Says Tax Cut of 20 Percent Could Bring Defeat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(P)—Advocates of continued war-time excise tax rates on liquor, furs and other items scored an initial house victory today when they overwhelmingly beat down a move to open the legislation to amendments.

The thumping voice vote to leave the bill retaining the high war-time levies unchanged, pre-empted its passage later in the day.

The legislation came before the house as Rep. Engel (R-Mich.) told his fellow-Republicans that enactment of the GOP-backed bill to cut income taxes 20 percent might "spell defeat" for the party in 1948.

By Francis M. LeMay
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(P)—Rep. Engel (Mich.) told his fellow-Republicans today that enactment of the GOP-backed bill to cut income taxes 20 percent might "spell defeat" for the party in 1948.

The long-brewing rebellion in GOP ranks against "across the board" tax cutting broke into the open as the house neared a vote on legislation freezing the excise taxes on liquor, furs and many other items at high wartime rates.

Signaling for the floor during debate on that measure, Engel aimed his fire instead at house bill No. 1 by Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), to trim income taxes a flat 20 percent for all persons earning up to $300,000 a year.

Knutson's bill would give only meager tax relief to the poor, the Michigan Republican declared, while granting large benefits for high income persons.

Calling this a "radical departure" from past Republican tax policy, Engel continued:

"I think of the Republican party as the party of Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln once said: 'God must have loved the poor because he made so many of them.' I am afraid the present leadership of the Republican party does not agree with Abraham Lincoln in this view."

Exemption Proposal
Engel, who has a bill pending to double the present $500 personal exemptions and thereby provide the greatest tax relief for low income groups, handed reports of his speech before the house actually began consideration of the excise tax freeze.

Without the freeze, the excises would drop automatically July 1 and wipe out $1,300,000,000 a year in federal revenues.

But by keeping the so-called luxury rates at their present levels indefinitely, many Republicans have said the going will be easier for their campaign to push down income taxes.

Moreover, GOP leaders are driving hard to slash down President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget for next year to make still more room for tax cutting.

Chairman Taber (R-N.Y.) of the senate-house budget committee said after the first closed door meeting of the group's 20-man subcommittee he believes Mr. Truman's figure can be slashed by from $4,500,000,000 to $5,500,000,000.

Wants It on Debt
President Truman has urged enactment of the high excise rates, a bid in agreement with Republicans on this score.

But in his message to congress he emphasized that he wants the extra money to apply to the national debt and not for tax cutting.

Engel conceded that he may find it hard to block Knutson's bill for a 20 per cent income tax cut.

He said the Knutson measure appears to represent "the tax policy" of the Republican party which now has control of both houses of congress.

Engel contended that under Knutson's bill a worker making $12 a week would receive a tax reduction of only two cents a week or $1.04 a year, "while the financier who had a $100,000 annual income would receive $12,790 a year reduction in taxes."

The $22 a week worker would have a saving of $2.08 a year "while the financier who had a $200,000 income would save $29,795 a year," and a man "with an income of $300,000 would save $48,985 a year."

Saying there are "85,230,000 people in the country or 61 per cent of the population who are dependent on individual or family incomes of $2,500 a year or under," Engel declared:

"If the Knutson bill is passed it will place into the hands of the Democratic party of the most effective campaign argument any party can have: An argument which will appeal to 86,000,000 people in the low-income group. It may spell defeat for the Republican party in 1948."

Engel said there should be no tax reduction of any kind until the nation's budget is balanced and a "substantial" payment is made on the debt.

the city that year. His next job, undertaken when he was 12 years old was delivering Western Union telegrams. The family later moved to Denver, Colorado, where Gambel worked his way through high school and college, attending both Colorado college and Denver university.

Already a national guardsman when World War I broke out, Gambel went overseas and was assigned to a replacement in the famous Yankee division and the 104th regiment. The regiment went all the way through the big push from Chateau-Thierry to the Meuse-Argonne. The regiment suffered 80 per cent casualties at Chateau-Thierry and 85 per cent casualties in the Meuse-Argonne. It was the first American regiment ever to be decorated as a unit on foreign soil.

Gambel suffered a head wound at St. Mihiel but refused to be evacuated. He was wounded severely and gassed in the Argonne. He was cited for bravery and later was awarded the Croix de Guerre and the Purple Heart.

Interested in Boys Work
From his own youthful experiences, Gambel is interested in developing recreational and educational activities for boys. He long has been an officer in the committee financing the work of the Four Square Boys' clubs in 11 Kansas City schools. He has taught and worked with the boys who attended the American Legion Boys' State. These and many other activities in the field of youth education and training won for Gambel in 1942 the $1,000 Louis Rosenthal prize for the most outstanding community service of the year in the American Legion's national Americanization fund.

His Legion activities have taken much of Gambel's time. He has served on the Legion's central committee and its Americanism commission. He kept up his interest in military affairs in the years between the two world wars as a reserve officer. He entered state guard work and in the later part of World War II served the militia as a brigadier general.

Gambel classifies his political beliefs very quickly.

"Since 1938, as one of the organizers of the Boy's State, I have been trying to teach kids good government," Gambel said. "I have told them it is very easy to have good government. The laws are simple. Clean efficiency of government means inherent honesty, common decency and horse sense."

Would Retain Official Papers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(P)—President Truman is considering steps to prevent the withdrawal of official government papers by cabinet and other federal officials when they leave government service.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross made this known to reporters today in the wake of an official request that Henry Morgenthau, Jr., return a "major part" of a voluminous diary he took with him when he left as secretary of the treasury in July, 1945.

Former Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes also has gotten his dander up over a report that he had taken government files with him when he returned from the cabinet.

Ross said it is Mr. Truman's opinion that "official papers" should be left with the government. He added that the "matter has not been thought through," but has been considered.

The attempt to regain the Morgenthau files, Ross said, is in the hands of Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder.

Picketing by Pressmen at K.C. Star Plant

Restraining Order Had Been Issued Against Carriers

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29.—(P)—The Kansas City Star went into its 13th day without publication today, although picketing by striking contract carriers has been restrained by court order.

Members of AFL International Pressmen and Assistants union, with which the striking carriers are affiliated, maintained the picket lines, however.

Composing room employees, who have refused to cross the picket lines, did not work yesterday despite instruction from the international officers to return to their jobs.

Orders Cease Picketing
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29.—(P)—The Kansas City Star went into its 13th day without publication today, although picketing by striking contract carriers has been restrained by court order.

The order was granted 109 of the 208 Star contract carriers, who contended they were being put out of business as independent merchants by a conspiracy to restrain trade in violation of Missouri state laws.

Hearing Set For Feb. 5th
Judge Buzard set Feb. 5 for a hearing on the application for a permanent injunction. A second group of carriers, members of the AFL International Pressmen and Assistants union set up a picket line around the newspaper Jan. 17, leaving Kansas City, Mo., with a daily newspaper. The striking carriers seek recognition for their union.

Roy R. Roberts, managing editor of the Star said last night after issuance of the temporary restraining order, that "the Star is ready to resume publication the minute its mechanical employees return to work as their contract provides."

Refusal of printers, pressmen and other mechanical employees to cross the picket line forced suspension of the Star company's morning and evening newspapers. Composing room employees were instructed yesterday by their international officers to go through the line but were turned back by mass picketing today.

Unlawfully Set Up Picket Line
The 109 contract carriers, in their court action, charged the second group of carriers had unlawfully set up a picket line with the intent of coercing the Star company and of destroying (the petitioning carriers) property rights in routes they had bought.

Cliff Langsdale, attorney for the striking carriers, contended the court had no jurisdiction; that it was a labor dispute that under federal laws could be settled only by the National Labor Relations board.

William S. Hogsett, one of the attorneys for the petitioning carriers, charged his clients were bystanders in whatever dispute might exist and that they had no other legal recourse except through today's action.

Hogsett charged his clients were being put out of business by a minority group and argued that their independent status had been established by a state supreme court ruling.

Third Parties Are Involved
Langsdale charged that if the temporary restraining order was granted the courts might as well hold that all picketing was illegal, since third parties always were involved. He cited business men, who he said probably were hurt by failure of the Star to be able to carry out advertising contracts.

After the hearing Langsdale said he would advise striking carriers to observe the court order, and that today he would file a motion asking for its dissolution. If that failed, he said, he was prepared to carry the case to both the state supreme court and the U. S. supreme court.

a mediation board, Iserman said he has "reservations." He added: "I have dealt frequently with conciliators. x x x it has been my impression that government boards tend to increase in power and importance. I doubt if the mediation board would be an exception."

Iserman said Ball's bill to revise the Wagner Act "reflects a remarkable understanding of the problems of management and labor under the present act."

Among other things, the measure would give employers the right to fire strikers; make unions liable for unfair labor practices; authorize industry to petition for injunctions against "unlawful strikes;" and give greater recognition to independent unions.

Wagner Act the number of strikes had tripled, averaging 1,040 in each of the 10 years before the act, followed by passage of the measure in 1935.

They have increased, he contended, "because under the act, no matter what the strike is about or how a man behaves during a strike, the least he can expect from the National Labor Relations Board is to get his job back."

Echoing Ball, Iserman said, too, that the act has reduced for unions "the risks of striking," increasing them for employers.

Despite the fact that Schwellenbach criticized much of the pendulum labor legislation yesterday, Taft told reporters that "in certain fields" the secretary apparently had "opened the door" to agreement.

"It seemed that our position was closer together than had been indicated on the basis of his (Schwellenbach's) prepared statement," Taft said.

He cited as an example Schwellenbach's stand on legislation to outlaw secondary boycotts. These occur when a union refuses to handle or work on particular materials in order to compel an employer to cease handling products of another company.

Position on Boycotts
Schwellenbach supported President Truman's contention that some secondary boycotts are justified, but questioning by committee members developed that the secretary was opposed to boycotts which penalize a firm without good cause.

Senator Ball (R-Minn.), sponsor of a bill to ban secondary boycotts, told newsmen that on this matter Schwellenbach "went quite a way with us."

As for the secretary's opposition to a mediation board, Ball said he is "not concerned" whether a separate board is set up, as proposed in the free trade bill, or whether the mediators are members of the U. S. Conciliation Service staff. Schwellenbach favored the latter course.

Approve Enforcement Act
LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 29.—(P)—An enforcement act for Arkansas' 1944 anti-closed shop constitutional amendment was approved last night by the senate labor committee.

After a two-hour public hearing, the committee voted 6-2 to recommend passage of Sen. E. J. Butler's bill to forbid either membership in a union or non-affiliation with a union being made a requisite of employment.

The bill, which also forbids forced payment of union fees, would assess fines ranging from $100 to $5,000 for violations. A similar enabling act was killed in the 1945 legislature.

Troops of U. S. Withdrawn From Strife Torn China

The department's announcement said the United States is terminating its connection with executive headquarters established by the committee in Peiping to supervise execution of the agreement to end hostilities and demobilization of the opposing armed forces.

American personnel at the executive headquarters is to be withdrawn "as soon as possible," said the department.

Relief Moves Later
Michael J. McDermott, department information officer, said instructions regarding "relief" of U. S. marines in China will be given later.

When Marshall left China early this month after a year of unavailing effort to compose differences between the two factions, he criticized "extremist" elements in both camps and said China's salvation lay in "the assumption of leadership by the liberals in the government and in the minority parties."

While Marshall was en route to this country from China his appointment as secretary of state to succeed James F. Byrnes was announced by President Truman.

"The reactionaries in the government have evidently counted on substantial American support regardless of their actions," Marshall said in his January 7, statement.

"The Communists by their unwillingness to compromise in the national interest are evidently counting on an economic collapse to bring about the fall of the government, accelerated by extensive guerrilla action against the long lines of rail communications—regardless of the cost in suffering to the Chinese people."

Notifies Gen Chiang
NANKING, Jan. 29.—(P)—U. S. Ambassador Leighton Stuart today notified Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and Communist representative Wang Ping-Nan of the United States decision to end its mediation of China's civil strife.

The first reaction was that of a government spokesman who said all effort to reach an agreement with the Communists had failed but the government would continue its efforts to reorganize through the cooperation of minority parties.

Stuart notified Chiang personally at 4:30 p. m. and one hour later told Wang, head of the Communist delegation in the capital. There was no immediate comment from the Communists.

Creates Apprehension
SHANGHAI, Jan. 29.—(P)—Chinese student groups which have been demanding American withdrawal greeted gleefully the news of the U. S. abandoning mediation efforts, but political and business circles, fearful of a protracted civil war, expressed no great elation.

Business elements which have clung to hope against against hope for settlement of the civil war and the beginning of a sound economic recovery were not happy to see the U. S. abandon its efforts at mediation, fruitless as they have been.

Many expressed fears that the war surely would accelerate.

Check on Plane Before Crash
COPENHAGEN, Jan. 29.—(P)—Eye witnesses said today that they saw the veteran pilot test all flaps several times just before a Royal Dutch airplane plane took off and crashed Sunday, killing Grace Moore and 21 others.

The eyewitnesses said nothing unusual was apparent and that they were convinced that the pilot, G. J. Geyssendorff, 54, had tried all controls thoroughly before he took the DC-3 transport aloft on his last brief flight.

An official of the line (KLM) said negotiations were in progress for a test flight to determine whether a steel wedge locking an elevator flap on the same type plane could have caused the crash.

Implicates in A Confession

DUNCAN, Okla., Jan. 29.—(P)—Police Chief Frank Steele said today that Mitchell A. (Mickey) Johnson, 19, who had signed a statement admitting the slaying of Robert Blakeley, 23, of Pico, Calif., had made another signed statement implicating a companion.

Steele said that Johnson, whose home is here, still admitted he shot Blakeley, but claimed in the signed statement that shipmate, Richard Wayne Fisher, 19, of Lima, Ohio, was with him when the shooting occurred. Fisher is being held by Carthage, Mo., police.

The Duncan youth, picked up here last Sunday for being AWOL from the navy, last night admitted he shot Blakeley in the head and chest and left his body in a ditch about 45 miles north of Santa Barbara, Calif., Jan. 12.

Steele said Johnson's latest statement related the following events:

The pair after hitching a ride decided to get rid of Blakeley. Johnson could use his car. They ordered him out of the car after Blakeley to a ditch. They led Blakeley to a ditch at the side of the road and when Blakeley attempted to seize the pistol, Johnson fired.

Johnson said Fisher kicked Blakeley into the ditch and they got back into the car and headed for Vallejo, Calif.

Steele pointed out Johnson's story could be checked with naval authorities. Previously, Johnson said Fisher was on his ship when he shot Blakeley.

The information—Johnson's latest statement has been sent to Carthage police.

Blakeley's body has not been found.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—U. S. business moguls enjoy reading news stories leaking out of White House cabinet sessions, but don't always relish having reports of their own closed-door meetings in Wall Street appear in the press.

Despite probable denials, however, here is a play-by-play account of a recent New York discussion which Henry Ford II staged with the representatives of Standard Oil of New Jersey, U. S. Steel and others regarding labor relations. What happened at the meeting was important. It gives interesting insight into Mr. Ford's determination to start a price decrease.

Although the two-hour conference was supposed to be confined to labor-management problems and an interesting argument took place between aggressive John Bugas, Ford vice president in charge of labor relations, and U. S. Steel vice president John Stephens about the high cost of steel. Bugas pointed out that prices were getting so high, many consumers simply couldn't afford to buy. He suggested U. S. Steel give the entire economy a break by cutting, not raising, prices.

After all, argued Ford's right-hand man, any change in steel wages or prices would set a trend for the entire nation. It would certainly help the fight against inflation, would ease labor-management negotiations.

U. S. Steel's vice president Stephens replied that, while prices and profits were high, he didn't think they were too high. He said that industry's stockholders had gone through some very lean years in the 30s, passing up dividends which they were now entitled to collect retroactively. Bugas protested against this, but Stephens was adamant.

Ford executive vice president Ed Brech swung in behind Bugas, pointing out that the steel industry didn't have to face the consumer directly, therefore might not know how much consumer pressure was piling up against high prices.

Professor Theodore Ynetama, director of research for the committee on economic development, backed up Ford by pointing out that prices generally were too high. Prices have gone clear beyond the range of the average working man, Ynetama said, and pointed specifically to department store prices, the prices of food, textiles, clothing and movie admissions.

Professor Sumner Schlichter of Harvard agreed with Ynetama, arguing that it would be wise for industry to lower prices now or face a just demand for higher wages it wouldn't like.

Standard Favors Decrease

Standard Oil's Frank Pierce, an expert labor relations man, also put the match to the high price boys, arguing that industry had to exercise its leadership by cutting prices.

"Yes," Pierce said, "industry will have to exercise its leadership by exposing the food and steel trusts which have created such an outrageous situation."

Pierce didn't mention it, but possibly he had in mind the recent study of government economists which shows how the food industry's profits have soared as much as 250 percent in recent months.

Armour's increased its profits 261 percent for the first nine months of 1946 over the same period of '45. Sunshine Biscuit's profits after taxes rose 122 percent, United Biscuit's profits rose 205 percent, the creameries of America made 67.3 percent more, while wages dropped to a level lower than on V-J day.

Finally, U. S. Steel's Stephens said he thought the others were being a little rough on him. The way to lower prices, he claimed, was through high production and fewer strikes. To this, Ford's Bugas retorted that, with prices so high, strikes were inevitable.

Annual Wage

Pierce of Standard Oil then began a blunt discussion of the guaranteed annual wage. Sooner or later, he claimed, industry would have to face the question of guaranteeing year-round employment to workers. In the past, Pierce explained, Standard of New Jersey used to lay up its tanker fleet each winter, throwing thousands of men out of work. Eventually, however, Standard found that by pushing its line of home-heating fuels, it was able to provide year-round employment for its fleet of ships and all their crews.

"The engineers employed by industry," Pierce said, "have been able to develop production technology to its highest efficiency, but they have ignored or overlooked human technology. There's no reason why the auto industry can't work more than seven months a year. Not to do so is a waste of manpower."

Young Ford replied that he hoped to see the day when the auto industry was able to provide its workers with year round employment.

It was a few days thereafter that Ford made his sensational announcement reducing the price of his cars.

No Lame-Duck Jobs

Here's some bad news for the Democratic congressmen and senators defeated in the last election who have been priming the White House for federal jobs:

President Truman has adopted a new policy — no lame-duck appointments, barring exceptional cases.

This is the story behind the hope of Senator Jim Mead's friends to land him a diplomatic post or some other top job.

Truman and Mead are old and close friends, fought shoulder to shoulder in many senate battles and when Truman became vice president in 1944, Mead succeeded him as chairman of the war investigating committee.

How- ever several times recently when White House advisers raised the question of putting the able New Yorker somewhere on the federal payroll, Truman replied with a flat "No."

"If the people of a state or a congressional district have decided that they don't want a man in Washington by voting him out of office, why should I go against their judgment by appointing him to some job as a reward for being defeated?" the president said.

So far, none of Truman's advisers has thought up a good answer.

Note—FDR believed that when a man had long experience in Washington, that experience should not be lost. Men who really know government are hard to find, and he believed in appointing defeated congressmen to administrative positions. Other presidents usually have followed the same course.

Capital Chaff

Italian Communists and Socialists are fighting tooth and nail against the re-establishment of a new Italian government under Christian Democratic premier Alcide de Gasperi, even though de Gasperi has just returned from the USA with a quarter-million dollars' worth of loans and promises. . . . Movie moguls are so worried over selling their pictures in Europe that they are sending Col. Frank McCarthy, close friend of Secretary of State Marshall, to head the Paris office of the motion picture association. McCarthy had been expected to take a job in the state department, but will be Hollywood's European troubleshooter instead. . . . Private power and fertilizer interests are using Senator McKellar and his Tennessee feud against David Lilienthal to block Gordon Clapp from becoming Lilienthal's TVA successor.

"Subversive forces are well entrenched in our midst," warned Rep. J. Parnell Thomas, above, of New Jersey, going into action as new chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee. Under Republican control for the first time in eight years, the committee recently voted to cut loose on alleged subversive elements in Hollywood, the federal government, labor and colleges.

Council of ex-Ambassadors

They'd Like to Become State Depart. Advisers
It Comes Only Once a Year—But

James W. Gerard (left), guiding figure behind the Council of Ex-Ambassadors, confers outside the White House with Bernard Baruch, ex-U. S. Delegate to the Atomic Energy Commission. Baruch, not eligible for membership to the Council itself, probably will be invited to become the Council's economic advisor, Gerard says.

By Marc J. Parsons
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—James W. Gerard, whose experience in foreign affairs dates back to 1910 and includes such posts as Ambassador to the Kaiser's Germany, believes America's greatest post-war diplomatic mistake was organizing the United Nations in San Francisco first instead of going to Europe while our armies were there.

"While the boys were out in San Francisco having their pictures taken and enjoying themselves generally, the Russians were tightening their grip on Europe and laughing up their sleeve," he says.

Gerard has organized a Council of ex-Ambassadors to give the State Department just such advice as this if the State Department feels inclined to consult the Council officially or unofficially. Forty ex-ambassadors joined the Council; one declined. Council members, scattered throughout the country, never have met as a group. They discuss foreign policy by correspondence.

"I thought the Council was an original idea, but a former Assistant Secretary of State told me a list of ex-ambassadors, to be utilized as ex-officio advisors, was drawn up for Bryan when he headed the department. Bryan thought it was fine, shoved the list in his pocket and thereafter did nothing about it.

"Someone drew up a similar list for Hull and it suffered the same fate."

Many Council members are concerned with the fate of the Atomic Bomb.

Joseph C. Grew, head of the Tokyo Embassy at the outbreak of war, wrote Gerard:

"I am seriously concerned as to whether we can afford to gamble our future national security, perhaps our national existence, on the good faith of the Russian

Nation-Wide Hunt On For Bet Handler

Key Figure In The Professional Grid Title Game Bribery

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(AP)—David (Pete) Krakauer, said by district attorney's office to have handled $70,000 in bets in a day, was being sought in a nation-wide hunt on charges of being a key figure in the professional football title game bribery case.

A district attorney spokesman identified Krakauer, 44-year-old ex-convict, as the third man indicted Monday by a grand jury on the word of Alvin J. Paris, who was convicted Jan. 8 of offering bribes in an attempt to fix the Dec. 15, contest.

Police Alarm Flashed
The police alarm, flashed at the request of District Attorney Frank S. Hogan, identified Krakauer as a "know gambler" who "may frequent race tracks and seashore resorts."

Krakauer was questioned at a Bronx hospital last month in the football investigation but he disappeared from there. He was being treated for a cardiac ailment.

The two others indicted, Harvey Stemmer and Jerome Zarowitz, were held in $10,000 bail. Stemmer already is serving a penitentiary term for attempted bribery of Brooklyn College basketball players in 1945.

Zarowitz, 32, was said by police to have been a clerk in the Elizabeth, N. J. office of a gambling ring for which Paris was front man.

The trio was

Annual Gridiron Dinner Is Held In St. Louis Tuesday

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 29—(AP)—President Truman, Gov. Phil M. Donnelly and Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, were lampooned last night in St. Louis advertising club's 11th annual gridiron dinner and show at Hotel Jefferson.

The dinner program attracted 443 club members who paid $17.50 a plate. The governor and Mayor Aloys P. Kaufman of St. Louis were guests.

Governor Donnelly's troubles in state administration were depicted in a song to the tune of "Doin' What Comes Naturally."

His secretary informed him of a long distance telephone call from Georgia.

"One of their extra governors wants to know if we have a room for rent in our capitol building."

"Tell him," answered Donnelly, "that all our extra rooms are being used for secret senate committee meetings."

The governor sings: "I'm not great but in my state the statehouse has one tenant."

"I'm the guy who holds the key, doin' what comes naturally."

"The police in St. Louis at times cause my annoyances."

"When they do I fire their chief, setting things so naturally."

In the presidential white house study in Washington, Mr. Truman interrupts the playing of the Missouri Waltz to exclaim: "I've sure been lonesome around here since last November. No one ever comes to see me anymore—there used to be so much company, so much fun."

He answers the telephone: "Hello, Hello. I'm so glad you called. Who did you say you are?"

(listens) No, Mr. Stassen is not here yet! (bangs receiver) Last time it was for Taft."

The scene shifts to Breadon's office at Sportsman's Park where he is talking with manager Eddie Dyer.

"Hello Eddie, I've just had a chat with Stan Musial. Seems being chosen the National League's most valuable player last year has gone to his head."

Dyer: "I was afraid he wouldn't sign for three thousand."

Breadon: "Well, if worst comes to worst we can always sell him to Boston for half a million."

Enter Bob Murphy of the ball-players guild, accompanied by A. F. Whitney of the railroad union, and John L. Lewis to discuss player contracts.

Murphy: "The first thing we want to talk about is minimum pay."

Breadon: "That's right down my alley. I have always advocated minimum pay."

Murphy: "Beginning this year the minimum pay begins at $50,000."

Breadon whistles.

Whitney: "Hereafter when the Cardinals go on trips you can't put more than 13 players in one berth. I'm superstitious."

Murphy: "And about the Dyer shift. If you want to have Kur-owski over to second base for those pull hitters you'll have to pay a stand-in to cover third."

Breadon: "And I suppose Mr. Lewis wants something too."

Murphy: "I don't know, Mr. Breadon. Mr. Lewis has been kinda quiet lately."

Breadon: "Doesn't anything in baseball interest you, Mr. Lewis?"

Lewis: "S-T-R-I-K-E!"

Enter Jorge Pasquel from Mexico: "Ah Mr. Breadon, have you at last decided to sell me the Cardinals?"

Breadon: "Sell you the Cardinals? No my friend. I'm going to give you the club."

The Doctor Says

Dr. O'Brien

BY WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

If there is a history of cancer in your family, you should pay special attention to the possible warning signs and report them promptly to your physician; but you are by no means doomed to contract the disease. Insurance companies pay no attention to a family history of cancer in judging risks, even when both parents died of disease.

Family histories of cancer are being collected at the present time, and it is hoped that when more information is available a positive answer as to the danger of cancer can be given in every case, reports the Illinois Cancer Bulletin. But until additional facts are known, we can do no more than generalize.

Strains of mice have been developed in which nearly all the animals contract cancers of certain organs if they live long enough, and other breeds produced do not contract the disease at all. Animal results will not answer all the questions in humans, however, for the mice are selectively mated.

Certain cancers which develop at an early age and involve both sides of the body (both eyes, for example), or which spring up throughout an entire organ such as the colon, are inherited. Other members of the victim's family have a high probability of developing the same kind of growths.

The presence of cancers of internal organs, including the breast, in a family history is thought to increase slightly the chances of another member of the family's having the same disease. But this tendency is not so marked as it is in the group listed above.

Cancers of the skin surface, or those connected with the surface (lip, mouth, larynx, and uterus), commonly result from exposure to irritants. An inherited factor is not of great importance in their development.

Twins Face Double Hazard

Identical twins have a tendency to develop the same form of internal cancer at the same time, but non-identical twins who are separate individuals do not show this tendency. When one identical twin develops a growth, the other should be on the alert and report any abnormalities to a physician.

If you have cancer in your family, remember that even in experimental mouse cancer other factors have been found to operate where inheritance was thought to be the only cause.

QUESTION: I have a mole on my face. It seems to be getting larger, and at times it is very itchy. Is there any possibility of its developing into cancer?

ANSWER: Yes. Consult a physician about its removal if it is showing signs of irritation and growth.

Approximate cost of the administration of criminal justice and losses due to crime is more than $2,000,000,000 annually in the United States.

Jefferson PTA Has Meeting

The regular meeting of the Jefferson school Parent-Teacher Association was held Monday evening at the Jefferson school. Mrs. Delmar Napier, president, presided.

The devotional was given by Room 5 which had the largest room count.

It was announced that the P.T.A. secured two large white porcelain enameled metal cabinets for the school lunch program.

Following the business meeting, a mixed chorus from Hubbard high under the direction of Miss Tuttle gave a selection of both classical and spiritual music.

After the program a number of pies, cakes and box suppers were auctioned. Pie and coffee was served to the members in the school cafeteria.

HANNAH didn't know why October should seem so rushed. Maybe it was just herself growing up, and tempus fugit-ing, as adults often said it did. Anyway, she lived in a state of constant anticipation.

First Jeff had gone. . . Hannah would always be proud that it was her money which made his going possible; and when he wrote about his job in New York, drawing Spunky Mule posters to be spread on billboards all over the country, she had a sense of personal gratification. Without her, this could not have been achieved. But she missed Jeff. There was one less chair to be pulled up to the supper table, one less plate to be washed, she couldn't pass his closed bedroom door without sighing for his absence.

And soon after Jeff's departure (that memorable Saturday of turmoil, with Mamma smiling and weeping by turns, and heroically forbearing to refer to Sidney's derelictions of the night before; with Papa grumpy and sputtering, the girls packing trunks, Beau getting in everybody's way, and Jeff himself stolid with excitement) soon after that Saturday, Dixon Thayer had arrived in Blakesville. Probably few people would ever know why Dixon came at just that time; but Hannah knew. Sidney had sent for him. By accident Hannah heard about it. The weather was warm, the parlor window open and Hannah sitting with a library book just inside. From the porch, their voices reached her, Sidney's and Dixon's. To avoid hearing she would have had to get up and shut the window—it might have disconcerted them.

DIXON was saying, "You mean there's someone else?"

"Was," Sidney said. "It's over."

YOU wouldn't, though," Sidney said earnestly, "if you knew me better. I do crazy things, and poke my nose into other people's business. I'm bossy, and I have no ideals at all. I always think the worst of everybody and everything, and that's what I usually get, of course. I'm not your sort, Dixon. But Rose is."

He laughed softly. "Yes, Rose is my sort, the darling."

A longer pause, and Sidney said: "If Rose went off on a tangent, it's the family failing. We all do it; I think, because we've never really belonged anywhere. We haven't any real background, but something made up out of Papa's dreams and Mamma's sweetness and light. If we could ever have been ourselves—poor, undistinguished people in a small Northern city—but no, Papa wouldn't have it; we must try to live like aristocrats in a pre-war South. So we're just—shadows."

"You're not a shadow, Sidney."

"I don't know what I am. I haven't the faintest idea. I may find out, finally."

"I think you will," Dixon said.

Enigmatic though this dialogue was in part to Hannah, it did explain why Dixon stayed so long and why, when he left, Rose was wearing the star sapphire ring which, he said, had been his mother's. Rose was engaged to Dixon; it would soon be announced. Hannah felt awfully pleased and thought a good deal about Dixon's Virginia home, as Rose had described it, the rambling white house with ivied chimneys and glassed-in verandas, the gardens and meadows and winding woodland. A very nice place, and Hannah asked Rose if she would like to have company there.

"Oh, yes," Rose said. "You must visit Dixon and me often, every summer, Hannah."

When she spoke of herself and Dixon in this way, as if they shared all hopes and interests, Rose looked awfully happy, her eyes shining; and Hannah knew that Sidney hadn't been mistaken. Rose was going to be happy ever after!

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood
Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and of color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, play better, feel better, work better, sleep better, have a better glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Towns for Sale--Intact Or by the House

Sale of Two Cities Offers a Choice of War Surplus Utah Town (left), Lock, Stock and Barrel, or a Company Village (right) in New Jersey on the Market Building-by-Building

By NEA Service
DRAGERTOWN, Utah—(NEA)—This town is for sale—lock, stock and barrel, and one electric clock. Credit can be arranged.

Dragertown is the latest government asset being offered to private buyers by the War Assets Administration. It can't be bought piecemeal. The buyer takes all, which would make him one of the most complete landlords in the country.

The town was built to provide living quarters for the miners who worked the nearby Geneva Coal Mine, and about 2500 people live here. The war ended before Dragertown got completely finished. One of the assets that go with the town is a commercial laundry, still crated, some of it still undelivered by the manufacturer.

The WAA described the town officially as a "self-sufficient settlement," 23 miles east of Price, Utah, in Carbon county near Desolation Canyon. It is on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad; a

By NEA Service
ROEBLING, N. J.—(NEA)—This company-owned town of 754 homes and 15 business properties, nestled along the Delaware river about 10 miles from Trenton, is up for sale.

No outsiders need apply. First chance at the neat detached, semi-detached and "row" houses go to those already living in them. If they turn down the offer, other employees of the wire manufacturing company that owns the town will have a chance. The company figures all will be snapped up.

The town's residents, however, aren't exactly happy about the sale. They admit that the company town has been a good place to live. Each neat brick home has its own front lawn and its own garden area behind. The streets are wide and pleasant. And most important, rents have been low.

Nine-room houses have rented for only $20 to $26 a month, six-room semi-detached homes for $16 to $20, and the four-room "row" home for $13 to $15. The com-

The streets of the tree-shaded village of Roebling, N. J., have been given away to the nearest township, but the rest of the village is for sale, house-by-house. Some of the 754 homes, on which present occupants have first choice, are shown below.

pany paid for all police and fire protection, for garbage collection and for other municipal services.

That's one of the two big "Mayors" Jerry Pintof, manager of the town, admits. The company might not have been forced to sell if the OPA had allowed a general rent increase requested four years ago, he says.

Roebling residents feel that the company-asked prices for the homes are too high; that they will have to dip deeply into precious hoarded savings to meet the prices—$3,200 for "row" houses to $6,000 for the larger homes. There are two superintendent "mansions" for which the company is asking $16,000.

In addition, the villagers for the first time will have to pay taxes and upkeep costs on the homes. Even so, the company contends that its asking prices "are far below anything you can find in the township."

The company already has deeded free to Florence township the four miles of streets and the street lighting and sewage system it built for the town.

Roebling was started in 1906 and named for John A. Roebling who designed New York City's famed Brooklyn Bridge.

President To Fly To Mexico City

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29—(AP)—President Truman will fly to Mexico City early in March to visit President Miguel Aleman.

The white house announced that the exact date for Mr. Truman's visit has not been decided on but that it will be made early in March.

His visit to Mexico will be prior to a scheduled visit to this country of President Aleman. Mr. Truman expects to be in Mexico City about three days.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters the trip "has been in the works for some time."

Intended Families Will Be Protected

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29—(AP)—A bill to prevent landlords of residential property from refusing tenancy to anyone intending to rear a family was introduced in the Missouri House of Representatives Tuesday.

Introduced by Reps. Edgar Boedeker and Orrie F. Underwood, both St. Louis county Republicans, the bill would prohibit landlords from inserting any clause in a rental contract to provide that during the term of tenancy the occupants of the residence "shall remain childless or shall not rear children."

Violation of the proposed law would be a misdemeanor.

Rep. Walter H. Bradbury (R) of Jasper county offered a bill to combat what he called the "insidious influx of unAmerican individuals" into public office. It would add this paragraph to all oaths taken by such officials on their inauguration to office:

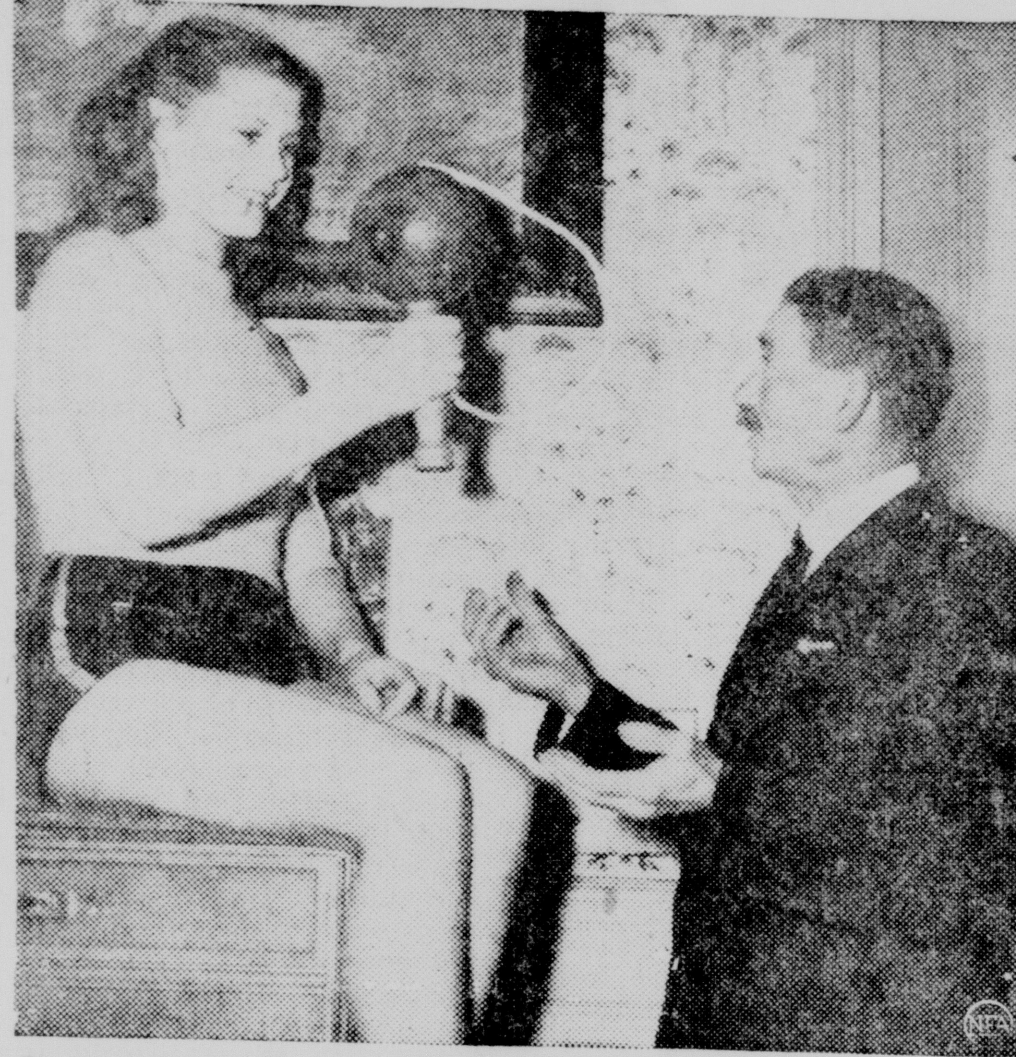

"I do solemnly swear that I have not within one year prior to taking this oath advocated by word or action the overthrow of Democratic government or participated in activities of any organization whose aims or purposes are inimical to Democracy."

Frenchman Makes Career Teaching Cup-and-Ball Game

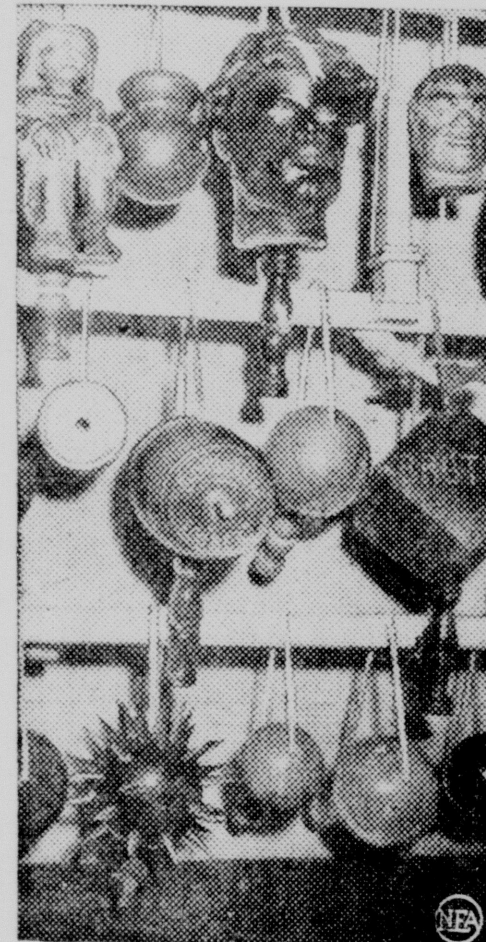

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS, (NEA)—A slight, mustached 70-year-old Frenchman has made a career of tossing a ball in the air and catching it on a stick.

And he has convinced thousands of French men and women that it's really a full-fledged sport.

Edmond Poineau, "professor of These fancy cup-and-ball sets, including spiked "knuckle-buster," were designed by French enthusiasts of the game.

Bilboquet," the French version of cup-and-ball, says the game provides both aesthetic and physical expression, requires little space to play and can be enjoyed by an individual alone or by groups.

It requires as much physical dexterity as badminton or bowls. Poineau says, and is a pleasant substitute for the "daily dozen." Enthusiasts of the game usually design their own cups-and-ball sets. Poineau's Academy of Bilboquet has collected more than 120

Its popularity faded and the game had almost dropped from sight when Poineau picked it up and gave it new life some 40 years ago. At that time he was proprietor of a small cafe in a Paris suburb. He had a ball and one of the stick-like "cups" on which it is caught made for his own amusement and found his cafe customers abandoning their cards and political discussions to try their skill.

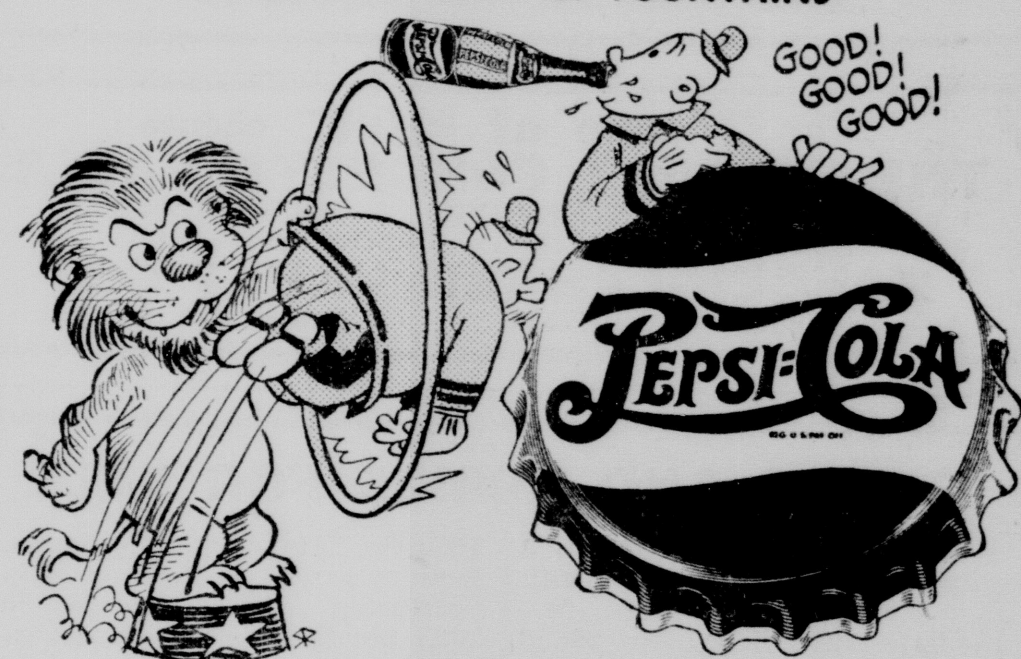

Modern players are no longer content with just a simple cup-and-ball. The more ardent fan, the more complicated and difficult becomes both the equipment and the rules.

Prize piece at Poineau's museum is the "knuckle-buster," a vicious looking ball armed with sharp spikes. One ball is shaped like a beautiful sculptured head of a negress, one looks like a champagne glass, one like a life-sized bottle of Pernod. There is a monster cup-and-ball set weighing 17 pounds and a featherweight one in ivory weighing less than half an ounce.
